HELP PROTECT THE FLOWERS AND TREES

October on the Wasatch

THEN still and tranquil grew the autumn
days;

Through hazy veils the trees began to blaze;
The mountain summits seems to sleep and
dream;

Of tawny richness was each lessened stream;
Transparent amber on the birches crept;
Orange and madder o'er the dwarf oaks
swept;

Upon the maples, in ravine or dell,
A myriad shades of rose-carnation fell;
The aspen groves a wonder to behold,
Strewed the dark rocks with leaves of paly
gold;

Wherever bunch of height-fond foliage grew,
Each frosty night had set some splendid hue,
And far above, beyond the sombre pines,
The wasted snow yet gleamed in urgent lines;
On every slope and steep, afar and near,
A seal was set that marked a dying year;
The mountains glowed in endless, gorgeous
dyes,
With pomp of woods and glory of the skies.

WEAR SUITABLE CLOTHING ON ALL TRIPS

Dave Alder has a job in a candy store now.
What do you do, Dave, milk chocolates?

IT IS OBSERVED THAT

When These Hikers Escape From Their Mother Club's Wings, They Do Such Entirely Impractical Things,

---

For Example, We Hear That

---

WINNIE PINBOROUGH and Luella Hunter,
With Katie Slight and some younger
brothers,
Set out to tour the south of the State
On horseback—and a pitiful tale they relate—
How they rode in sweet comfort the first several miles,
And loped 'long the trail, each face wreathed
with smiles,
But joy can't last always when on horseback
one rides—
They soon rode on pillows, with groans and deep sighs.
Incidentally, riding's not all that they did,
Winnie plunged from a bridge and broke her
a rib;
Then their horses they left and on stretchers
progressed—
Oh, the tale is too sad—I just can't tell the rest!

---

Well, you can't kill a hiker—these giddy
young things
Rested up just one week and have hiked ever since,
And if you should ask them, they'll probably say
They're going to try it again some day.

CLEAN YOUR CAMP BEFORE LEAVING IT

DON'T BUILD FIRES CLOSE TO A LIVING TREE

One, Two, Three, Go.

LELLAND WEBB and Leon Stoney have something to mention, to the members only. HERE IT IS Pinecrest Inn in Emigration Canyon has been engaged for a big three-day outing New Years. All who were with us last year can appreciate this great opportunity of a grand and glorious winter outing. We want you all to prepare Now. Get your skies ready, etc.—lots of fun, and enjoyable surprises at the Inn for you. If your friends want to go, get them to become members before that date. Details later.

Mt. Nebo Climb Great Success. Twenty-five Reached the Top in Time for Sunrise.

Mr. Gore, Mr. Neilson and Dr. Pfouts made one of the most difficult climbs in the Wasatch range by climbing on this trip the four peaks to the south of Nebo, and has never been done to the knowledge of the forest service, anyone in Nephi or Payson. Local people say put them in the Hoose-Gow, only 15 miles away.

October 21st and 22nd Dry Mt. Leave Payson Saturday afternoon and make the top for camp. Watch sunrise, and then continue up the ridge to Santaquin Canyon. Inspect mines, lunch and then back to Townsend's ranch and home.

Observations

PRESIDENT STONEY wishes to announce that Federal Heights or Ensign Peak does not qualify a member.

---

The Wasatch Mountain Club still continues to grow. Just note the list of new members, appearing elsewhere in this issue, and satisfy yourselves. Not only does it grow bigger from day to day, but better as well, and we're all aiming to make the improvement continuous.

---

Someone asks: "Why not a permanent home for the Wasatch Mountain Club in some adjacent canyon where we could give parties and entertainments among club members?" Should the idea be accepted, the girls would love to stage some money-making entertainment.

---

Does anybody know why Harriett limps so lately? Say, that is sure good pavement on First South—it's not even cracked, did somebody remark?

---

It is said that real tears were shed in Young George's behalf at the recent Melon Bust—but they turned to tears of indignation when it was discovered the Big Six were just pulling some funny stuff and he wasn't going to die after all. He's crushed because they weren't tears of joy, but that's the way with women, George.

---

They say the course of true love never runs smoothly, but we didn't know it was so Stoney until we witnessed Gertrude's romance, vividly portrayed in a moving movie the other night.

ALWAYS BRING A CUP AND SPOON

The "Sing" Department

RESOLVED that the Wasatch Mountain Club song shall not be "Tra La La" to almost-any-tune any longer than possible.

We've had a few contributions since our appeal in the first issue but not enough. Speed up bunch!

As a little starter, here's a contribution received from Miss Lettice Warbal, to be sung to the tune of "Tuck Me to Sleep in My Old Tucky Home." Shall we all sing it on the next trip?

Rock me to sleep in my Rocky Mountain Home!

Cover me with Western skies and when I choose to roam,

Let snow-capped peaks crown my path all the way;

For recreation, and vacation, here I want to stay!

I can't see a bit of fun, riding trains and ships around,

I just want to roam along, under western skies.

Rock me to sleep in my Rocky Mountain Home,

Just let me lay there, stay there, never away to roam.

Your outings can be made more joyful with the aid of good Musical Instruments

We have them.
