ATTENTION: RAMBLER EDITOR
Wasatch Mountain Club
3155 Highland Drive
Salt Lake City, Utah 84106

The Wasatch Mountain Club is governed by a Board of Directors - 13 representatives elected by the membership. Through the courtesy of Timberline Sports, our mail is sent to their address, 3155 Highland Drive, for collection only. The Club's telephone is located at O'Dell's Shoe Repair Shop, 425 South 8th West. This phone is maintained as an answering service only by Life Members 'Pete' (O'Dell) Peterson and wife 'Pinky'. They take time out from their work to answer the phone and relay incoming messages to the proper Director. The Petersons do not hold any office, or attend Board meetings, or are they informed by the Board of official actions. If a trip leader cannot be contacted or is not specified, call the Director of that department for information. The Board strongly desires to hear comments, suggestions, inquiries, and criticisms concerning the operation of your Club. Please feel free to phone any Director or write to the President. Names will be withheld upon request, but anonymous letters will be disregarded.

Mountain Club business is conducted only on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. At that time, and only at that time, is the mail opened, new membership applications voted on, dues payments recorded, address changes made, and all other business requiring board action conducted. All board members cannot attend all board meetings and although an effort is made to fill in during a member's absence, some business is held for action until the next meeting.

CLUB ACTIVITIES FOR SEPTEMBER 1975

REGISTRATION INFORMATION: Registration is generally not required for members participating in easy or intermediate hiking (rating below 7.0). Unless specifically stated, advanced hikes (rating above 7.0) require registration with the leader. Adequate equipment is an absolute must. You cannot participate in these events if you have not shown your ability on other hiking activities and if you do not have adequate and well broken in boots with good Vibram type soles and suitable protective clothing. Special equipment like an ice axe etc. may also be specified and you are required to be able to handle such equipment. Remember that these restrictions are set for your own safety and that of your fellow members. For rules regarding participation of children, consult the May Rambler 1974.

Wind River High Camp

July 24-27

by Paul Horton

The Pioneer Day mountaineering trip to the Wind Rivers was very enjoyable in spite of many mosquitoes and a longer than anticipated approach hike. Camp was set up at the far end of fiord-like Black Joe Lake, a site that was not universally popular since getting to it required crossing an exhausting boulder field.

During the next few days, various parties did the following routes: Haystack Peak -- Vaill Rte, II F6, by Swanson & Stevens. South Ridge -- II F5, by Gottman, Weber, Baty, Ryan, Mason, Alto, Hitchner, Daurelle, and Stevens. Steeple Peak -- (Chouinard) Rte) -- II F7, by Horton & Gribble. and Wind River Peak -- (Variation of Beckey Rte) -- II F6, by Gottman & Weber. Meanwhile many people did non-technical routes on East Temple and Wind River Peak.

Evenings in camp provided the real highlights of the trip. We fed upon the likes of fresh fish, popcorn, and Mason's five star cheesecake with fresh cherries, drank up at least 17 various kinds of alcohol (firewater award to the Bruenger rum), and were entertained (?) by the usual tall tales, plus songs and vaudeville perpetuated mainly by Swanson. We all resolved to continue the party in the Cirque on Labor Day.

Leader: Paul Horton. Participants: Paul Horton, Lynn Larson, Gwen Ryan, Bonnie Baty, Ron Weber, Hal Gribble, Larry Perkins, Mary Welch, John Mason, Lew Hitchner, John Gottman, James Alto, Larry Swanson, Audrey Stevens, John Riley, Lyman Lewis, Eveline Bruenger, LeRoy Kuehl, John Cole, Renu Jalota, Ray Daurelle, Frank O'Neil, Charlie French, and Peter Bern.

* ATTENTION * Just in!! September 21, Sunday. SUNDIAL EXPERIENCE CLIMB 7:30 am. Mouth of Big Cottonwood Canyon. Piton hammer required. Sustained F5-F6. Leader: Larry Swanson, 278-3269. Office: 328-8066 Ext. 4456. Registration essential; space limited.

July 19

by Sally Nelson

Stew and Eunice Harvey wisely climbed the peak earlier than the rest of us and therefore saw the valley aglow in the sunset while we were still working our way up the trail under the just-risen moon. "Good time of day to hike," we agreed as the evening kept us cool for our effort. The sky was still pink and rose as we reached the saddle. "Worth it," we commented as we passed around oranges and brew. The leader noticed that next year we ought to begin the hike at 6:30 in mid-July in order to view all the advertised spectaculars. As the night closed in and the moon rose higher, we groped downward (some upward and then downward). The moon played tricks, and Eunice was scratched up in a bad fall but determinedly limped her way down anyway. Most of us made it home after midnight, tired and happy.:

Leaders: Chuck and Diz Mays.
Hikers: Stew and Eunice Harvey;

REMEMBER THE LODGE

August 2-4

by Judy Davis

"May I have your attention, please? . . . Uh . . . PEOPLE!" The Wasatch Mountain Club rafting organization has fallen on hard times; it is ignoring its past, thumbing its nose at time-honored tradition. Its demise is at hand. Who wants to associate with a group that 1) leaves town at the designated time, 2) arises at 6:30 and 7:30 A.M. on the river, 3) disappoints the new ranger-person at Jones Hole who came to see the Wasatch Mountain Club which "prides itself in being rowdy," 4) sports only one water fight and that between just two rafts, 5) arrives back in Salt Lake and unloads the gear before dark, and 5) produces a short write-up of the trip!

"May I have your attention, please? . . . Uh . . . PEOPLE!" It all began innocently enough the first day with an investigation of Winnie's Grotto where gnomes, Marty MacKnight and Jim Mason, lurked behind rocks and threatened those trying to climb the boulders at the entrance to the grotto. After eating lunch above Upper Disaster Falls, the group scouted and ran that long sweeping bend with the hole. Later, Harp offered a great ride through its excellent series of standing waves. Here Bill Keegan did his best to get rid of Captain Dennis Webb, but Dennis managed to get back in the raft rather quickly, as had Joy on an earlier "joy-ride" in the waves. At Triplet Campground, Chuck enhanced happy hour by serving scallops sauteed in butter, and the dinner crew did well with burritos and almond cake. Stu topped off the evening with a dramatic reading of "The Cremation of Sam McGee." (As the evening grew darker and visibility lessened, the dramatics increased proportionately.)

"May I have your attention, please? . . . Uh . . . PEOPLE!" The second day provided the excitement of missing the slot at Triplet Falls and making it through the hole in Hell's Half Mile. Captain Mary Manley did a beautiful job of maneuvering in Hell's Half Mile, but was thrown off the back as her raft hit the bottom of the hole. The long ride through the rest of the rapid left her pretty exhausted, so we all stopped to give her a well-deserved rest. After lunch at Echo Park, only two rafts had the gumption for a water fight. A great dinner of steaks and baked potatoes at Jones Hole was followed by the noisy, nocturnal and sometimes nose-to-nose confrontation with the local skunks. The cute little creatures weren't intimidated easily and kept some of us on edge much of the night.

"May I have your attention, please? Uh . . . PEOPLE!" The third morning, industrious Chuck awakened the breakfast crew at 5:45 with "The fire is going, the coffee is made, and the skunks are gone." Dan Thomas' bleary reply "Pour the coffee on the fire and call back the skunks." It was to no avail. We were on the river before nine, through Island Park and Rainbow Park without fighting an up-canyon wind, through Split Mountain and on the bus in no time.

Soon after starting from the lodge, a babbling brook was encountered, which most of us voted not to cross. Instead, we followed the right bank trail which became steeper and steeper, and finally surmounted a cliff, bringing us almost to Lake Mary. Turning our backs on this unacceptable goal, we descended to Dog Lake and there discovered a fine trail through the woods which led to Snake Creek Pass. Admiring the grandiose view at great length, we nonetheless had to admit that Majestic was the goal; so, upwards and onwards on the rocky cone, we reached the summit only three hours from the lodge. There lunch was consumed by the foresighted, while those without contented themselves with the stupendous view of the Wasatch and Uinta Mountains.

This leisurely and pleasurable stroll, led by Jackie Thomas, was enlivened by the anecdotes and puns of Yenta Kaufman. Others in the party were Nancy Lake, Bill Burk, and George Healy.

Spanish Fork Peak

July 26

by Ray Miller

Only three hardy hikers turned out for the hike up Spanish Fork Peak. After a short waiting period, the group started calling to find Sam Allan --the leader-- only to learn that he was out of town. Finally, Frank West was phoned to lead. He agreed since he had made the hike last year.

By 9:30, the small, determined group started up the south side of Spanish Fork Peak. The trail was very good for the first two hours, leading through aspens and along the west slope of the canyon. The next hour, the group was still together going at a relatively fast pace but resting a bit more often. THEN--the trail disappeared, and we were faced with bush-whacking and a steep hike to the top. John French and Henk Monkhurst maintained a good pace and reached the top about 1:45 pm. Ray Miller and Frank West brought up the rear at a leisurely pace, enjoying the beautiful scenery etc. every 20 feet. At 2:30, the group all met on top, and after a short rest started down the north side of the peak. The trail down was every bit as steep as the one going up, only much more rocky. It was decided that the hike should be up-graded from a 9 to at least a 10.9 rating.

This group of mountaineers were the first to hike up Spanish Fork Peak this year. They included: Sam Allan, John French, Henk Monkhurst and Frank West.

Twin Lakes

August 3

by Sally Nelson

Kids outnumbered adults 10 to 6, but mosquitoes outnumbered us all. Ages $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 75 we were, and we hiked up the road at various paces. Some of us stopped to enjoy sliding on a mound of dirt. At the top, a scenic lake offered a good picnic spot and plenty of fish for entertainment.

Leader: Sally Nelson. Participants: Joey Hedburg, Matt Gough, Christy Gubasta, Erik Nelson, Alex Nelson, Henry and Hiram Fowler, Alison and Geoffrey Swift; Kay Provancher, Jaelene Myrup, Katy Hedburg, Mickie Freelove, and Charley Swift.

July 19

Jim Todd

We were all assembled, ready to start for Red Pine Lake, but no leader. Before deciding to try it on our own, we waited precisely 20 minutes longer (Precision is a must on a Bruenger-run hike). Our (ex) noble leader, so some speculated, must be attending higher duties, probably a Schutzstaffel reunion. Ah, no matter, we started under sparkling blue skies. Part way up, we found several small snow fields, often lying across the trail; some, in fact, extending into the lake itself. A splended combination -- snow, great scenery, blue water, and a hot summer day. Red Pine lake, one of the more beautiful of the alpine lakes! You all come next time.

gobblers knob

by Bill Burk

On a pleasantly warm July 20, twelve ambitious hikers climbed to Gobblers Knob under the expert leadership of Jackie Thomas. Wildflowers such as bluebells, columbine, penstemons, geraniums, mustard, Indian paintbrush, lupine, thimbleberry, and clematis were noticed on the hike. Also, a swarm of bees in a pine tree was warily observed on our way to the Knob. But on our return they had dispersed.

Mountaineering Ramblings

by John Gottman

We had another achievement-filled high camp in the Temple area of the Wind River Range, with three F6 routes done on Haystack, an F7 route done on Steeple, and an F6 route done on Wind River Peak. Hiked peaks included East Temple and Wind River Peak. The parties were definitely F9, but no one required aid. Thanks to Titanic Paul Horton for leading a fine trip.

I was chatting with Teton Ranger Bob Irvine about people problems as Ron Weber and I were registering for the fine Southwest Ridge route on the Grand. There are very few highly desirable climbing areas in the Tetons that are not crowded. Space cannot be reserved in advance, so planning club trips in popular areas will be increasingly difficult. Splitting of the party and limiting the size of groups may be an unfortunate necessity. Suggestions on new Teton areas suitable for club trips will be appreciated.

Thanks to Bill Shepard, Karen Weatherbee, Karen Bogart, and Marshall Ralph for July and August hamburgers.

I got a call from Dixon Smith from California. Marge has had a baby girl. Dixon suggested that four to eight people come out to the Palisades or the Minnerettes for climbing in early October. We'll try to work up something for four days on a non-western party weekend. Call if you are interested.

Thursday night climbs will continue through October, weather permitting.
