ROADIES AND TREAD HEADS

I Need YOU to lead rides! If you want casual rides in the country, all out training rides, rides in the mud, scenic vistas, etc. – then YOU must pedal forward and help lead those rides. Even if you are going out of town to ride somewhere – call and list the ride – you might get others to go! Don't be shy. Leadership has its benefits. Call me and I'll help schedule an activity.

Call me to schedule a ride!

HIKE: BIG PROVO HOLE CIRQUE OF TIMPONOGOS (AND MAYBE THE SUMMIT!)

(MOD+ to MSD/Snow) Tim Seeley (801-544-7928) hiked here on his own last year, and would like to share his find with the WMC. This destination is south of the Alpine trail of Timp, up a seldom traveled basin. The cirque is and is surrounded by cliffs on the south and steep slopes on the north. Tim would like to keep the possibility open to climb the headwall to the saddle, and possibly summit Timp, but anything after the cirque is totally exploratory. (If we do summit, we will come down the Alpine Trail.) A geology lesson: Expect to see great examples of small rock burgshunds, obviously remnants of much earlier times when glaciers were abundant. These are most interesting because of their small size, attesting to apparent glacier advance and retreat many, many times. It feels like there should be a lake there, but the bottom is a rock jungle. No place was carved down to anything that would hold water. The sides of the cliffs fill the small valley. Bring ice axe, glissading paraphernalia, and call to register.

JUN 20 SAT

George Westbrook (942-6071) is planning a 6-day backpack/peak bagging trip for Mid-July, which will culminate in the ascent of Wyoming's highest peak, 13,804'. It will take about two days to drive to Wyoming and hike in to Titcomb Basin. Although it only takes one day to climb Gannet, George is allowing a one-day window for bad weather. Ice axes and crampons are required. Two more days to get out and go home. Exact dates will be in the July Rambler, but interested parties should call George ASAP if you are thinking about this trip.

On Sunday we'll backpack over 12,500' Hunchback Pass to Sunlight Creek, our base camp for 3rd class scrambles up two high thirteeners: Vellecito and Leviathan Peaks. While hordes of hikers throng to the 14ers, we'll have this beautiful remote area in the San Juan Mountains all to ourselves. The leader, the first woman to climb Colorado's 100 highest mountains, will be spending the entire week in the San Juans, bagging little-known and rarely visited summits. CANADA TO MEXICO BIKE TOUR

Stage 1: August 7-23, 1998

Tired of day rides and need an unforgettable challenge? Starting this summer, the WMC is planning a cross country bike tour starting at Banff, Canada and ending at the Mexican border. The route will take us through Jasper, Waterton Lakes, Glacier National Park, Yellowstone National Park, the Tetons, Steamboat, Rocky Mountain National Park, Durango, Santa Fe, and Carlsbad. Generally, this follows the Bikecentennial route.

We will do this in three 2-week stages starting August 7-23, 1998 and finishing in August, 2000. Approximate total miles 2,800, doing 60-80 miles per day with rests and plenty of time for sight seeing. This epic ride follows the same format as we did with the Sea to Shinning Sea ride from 1988 to 1991, with a motor home for a sag wagon, trailer for bikes, and possibly a professional cook and driver.

The Planning Meeting for this ride has already occurred, but it is not too late to still call Bob Wright 272-6792 about the tour.

The Boundary Waters Canoe trip is scheduled for Sept 11-20. The nonrefundable $100. deposit is due by June 1st with the balance of the money due by Sept 1. Any questions, call Eileen Gidley, 255-4336.

OCT 18 THRU NOV 1

VENEZUELAN ANDES EXPLORATION

Mountainous and marvelous Venezuela is the site of our two-week adventure. We will explore high mountain peaks, valleys, towns, historical sites, native art and culture. Hiking is a large part of our time in these areas, as we experience this unique country. We will ride the "teleferico" (world's longest and highest tramway) to Pico Bolivar (over 1,500') then hike to our "posada" in Los Nevados, a remote village. A rugged 4-wheel drive trip continues the exploration of mountains and villages. We will visit the Condor Reserve, hike to Lake Victoria, canoe the wildlife-rich plains of the Llano and hike the "paramo". Merida, a University town, will be the base for our excursions. Lodging will be in unique "posadas". Transportation is by van, 4-WD vehicles, and porpuesto jitney cabs. The $599 cost includes 14 nights double occupancy lodging, van transportation, teleferico, and guide service. Current round trip air from SLC is about $700. Travel arrangements will be made if you wish. The trip is coordinated through the University of Utah Continuing Education Division. Contact Vince DeSimone (435) 649-6805 for information. Limit 10 persons.

DIRECTORS MESSAGES

From the Conservation Director

The New Improved HR 1500 (and the new, not improved, Canyons Resort)

Rep. Jim Hansen threw down the gauntlet - accusing the Utah Wilderness Coalition (UWC) of including roads, railroad tracks, and other human developments within the 5.7 million acre Citizens' Proposal for wilderness on public lands managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). In the most recent Congress, this proposal was legislatively embodied as HR 1500. In the next Congress, an updated version of HR 1500 will be introduced.

If you're a newer Mountain Club member, you may not have been aware that the Club holds one of six voting positions in the UWC, along with the Sierra Club, the Wilderness Society, SUWA - the Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance - and the Coalition co-chairs. The Mountain Club has been a very active player from the beginning of the Utah BLM wilderness effort, and in developing the original HR 1500.

The Coalition took up Hansen's gauntlet. Over the last two years, we have been conducting a sophisticated, well-documented re-survey of Utah's wildlands starting with the 5.7 million acre proposal. The re-survey effort was initially stimulated by our desire to ensure that no non-qualifying areas were included in HR 1500. More than ten years have elapsed since the 5.7 million acre Citizens' Proposal was first formulated. We knew that in this time, some areas have been seriously impacted by mountain biking, off-road vehicle use, and industrial activities, and should be dropped from our proposal.

However, while we did find some places that needed to be dropped from HR 1500, we found many more wilderness-quality lands that were not included in the 5.7 million acre proposal. These were mostly in the Book Cliffs and the West Desert. Because the original HR 1500 was based on data taken in a great hurry to beat the 1985 deadline of the BLM's wilderness assessment, it was not possible to thoroughly visit all areas that might qualify for wilderness designation. As a result, those original boundaries were rather conservative. Some regions, like the Book Cliffs and the West Desert received little attention.

Times have indeed changed. The Coalition has much greater financial resources now. And, in stark contrast to 1985 when activists had to sue the BLM to get them to follow the law on its wilderness inventory, this time around certain BLM employees have pointed out "missed" areas to survey volunteers. Some of these areas had never been on the Coalition's radar screen. Even Pat Shea suggested an area we should consider adding.

Another new factor updating the proposal is the importance of some areas for preservation of Utah's biodiversity. Utah ranks in the top five states for biodiversity and for species found only within the state's borders. Wilderness designation is one of the best legal protections for these unique species.

In the Coalition's re-survey, we have accumulated over forty thousand photographs keyed to specific locations on 7.5" maps. These photographs and field maps document all the vehicle routes, abandoned mines, pipelines, etc. in Utah BLM wildlands. Some of this was volunteer effort and some was the work of interns paid $300/week. Several WMC members volunteered time to the survey, including Brad Yates, John Veranth, and I.

The Coalition also established a Technical Review Team to review the fieldwork & photos and make preliminary decisions about what areas to include or exclude, in the updated proposal. I served on the Review Team for some months, and both John and Brad attended many of those meetings. In the first few months, the Coalition's excomm spent hours hashing out standards for areas to add or drop. We even did a group field trip to look at some particularly thorny areas. We wanted to be certain our updated Citizens' Proposal was completely defensible under the terms of the 1964 Wilderness Act.

At this time, we have not completed our analysis of the fieldwork, nor do we know what the final acreage will be. Once the fieldwork and analysis are complete, we will be unveiling the new and improved Citizens' Proposal.

More Development at The Canyons Resort (contributed by Cheryl Fox)

Thomas Jefferson said "the price of liberty is eternal vigilance." Those of us who enjoy our natural values can appreciate the need for eternal vigilance. It seems that some mining company or developer is forever scheming to "improve" the land.

Currently the American Skiing Company plans further development for The Canyons Ski Area (formerly Wolf Mountain & Parkwest). There are a number of concerns WMC members should be aware of and may wish to comment on.

A major concern is the impact of development on backcountry use, access and crowding. Originally lifts were proposed to be built to the ridge line between Mill Creek Canyon and Big Cottonwood. Members of Save Our Canyons, the Sierra Club and the WMC, as well as many concerned backcountry skiers, have met with American Skiing Co. management. AS Co. appears willing to make a binding commitment to locate the lifts below the ridge on the Mill Creek side, and to ensure that there is no spillover of lift skiers over the ridge near Peak 9990 into the Big Cottonwood backcountry. On the Park City side, backcountry access would be allowed through gates much lower on the mountain, much like historic access has been in that area.

Questions still remain on the appropriateness of development proposed to be built above 8000' on the mountain. There are major issues, including impacts on viewsheds, ski run clearing, wildlife protection, and erosion & runoff.

Public hearing are underway as the Snyderville Basin Planning Commission considers these issues. For more information you can contact the Concerned Citizens' Website: utw.com/~lamco/canyon.htm. If you feel strongly about preserving the wild and scenic nature of this area please attend and comment at a hearing, write a letter, and remain vigilant. Comments should be sent to the Summit County Board of Commissioners and the Snyderville Basin Planning Commission at PO Box 128, Coalville UT 84107. For additional information contact Vince DeSimone, 435-649-6805. (Note: Vince has been formally "deputized" to represent the WMC on these issues - SS)

From the Hiking Director By Cheryl Soshnik

The good news on the Ten Essentials contest is that we have a winner. Eric Rieux penned the following after the Pfeifferhorn hike on May 2:

I will start with the things that we "experienced" hikers forgot yesterday:

1. Enough layers to keep warm and stay dry (Tom and his one single layer wondering if he was going to be cold)
2. Enough water (I used up my 2 quarts and ran out on the way down, the extra water from Carol's car and then the wonderful Leinenkugel from your brother was appreciated)
3. Appropriate foot gear (Walt in polypro socks and Carol wishing she had taken her plastic boots)

Then the stuff we did have:

4. Plenty of food . Jan had enough yummy stuff to sustain and please all of us.
5. Whatever tools are needed for the planned hike: adequate pack, ice axe, crampons, etc.
6. Sun protection: glasses, hat or cap and sunscreen (even though I added several layers on my face, my wife greeted me with "Good morning Rudolf!" today...

Finally the stuff I suppose everybody had but we did not need to use:

7. First aid kit, headlamp, waterproof matches

June 1998

• PAGE • 27•

8. Some extra clothes in case of getting wet and cold
9. A map if the area when not familiar with the area (actually, I think Carol even had a map)

That makes only nine... The one thing I would add, I got from my wife who was partly raised in Sweden, and got pounded in her head:

10. Before going in the backcountry, leave a note on the dashboard of your car with planned itinerary and expected return date or time. That may not be a good idea in the canyons right out of the city and possible vandalism, but the principle could be substituted with telling someone where you're headed and when you expect to return.

On a second topic, I would like to remind all WMC members to accept PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY in contributing your financial share for carpool expenses. We are having a problem with certain people constantly riding in other people's cars, and offering very little or nothing for the carpool reimbursement. Chipping in to buy the driver lunch at a truckstop and then giving him an extra dollar or two is NOT acceptable for any out of town trips. Makes the driver feel like the postman at Christmas. As a reminder, the club has a policy that vehicles used to carpool participants to trailheads are reimbursed at gas + .15/mile, divided by all people in the vehicle (including the driver). 4WD vehicle reimbursement is gas + .25/mile. Trip organizers, please make sure all participants understand the carpool reimbursement, and pay their share. We are an adult organization, and thus, we all should accept our personal responsibilities and pay our obligations.

Finally, thanks to everyone who's organized hikes so far this year. The weather has generally held, and the trips are quite well attended. Remember, if you have a favorite hike, and you have not yet been contacted by members of the hiking committee, just pick up the phone and dial (435) 649-9008.

Information Director's Message

(currently vacant)

The Wasatch Mountain Club needs a new information director!

Because the Board of Directors appointed Carol Coulter to fill the opening of Membership Director for the remaining term (through February, 1999, there is now an opening for Information Director. The principal duties of Information Director are to promote the Club and facilitate communications.

Last year, with Carol Milliken and Carol Coulter as co-Directors, the following was accomplished:

- The Membership Guide was completed and published in the January Rambler.
- Voice mail was upgraded to a more user-friendly system.
- The general information brochure was revised and printed. It is currently available at most of the local sports and recreation shops.
- The Web page was upgraded and improved mostly through the efforts of Tony Ackerman.
- The use of email was initiated mostly through Tony's efforts.

- The WMC is now listed in the SLC Chamber of Commerce's List of Clubs and Organizations.
- Two highway cleanups were organized and run by Randy Long.
- A new computer for the Club was researched and purchased to ease the production and mailing of the Rambler and help all Directors with their communications.

Since many of the "routine" tasks are now out of the way, this would be an excellent time to set new goals and priorities for Information—perhaps leading the club in communications, such as developing PR with local news media and/or discovering new ways for the Directors to use Office 97 software to streamline their duties. You can help define the role of Information Director.

If you are interested in serving as Information Director or co-Director, please contact Linda Kosky or one of the other Board members. This is an excellent opportunity to provide volunteer service and support to your club.

BOATING

Vera - Boating Director

It seemed winter was never planning on loosening it's icy grip, but finally the sun has pried loose some of the snowpack and send water coursing through the river beds. Even though the cold storms kept us away from a few of the early season trips, boaters are hardy souls and the call of the water is a strong force. On May 16,17 we had 30 hardy souls brave the wild upcanyon winds to float the Gray Canyon stretch of the Green River. The water was clipping along at 18,000 cfs which created some fun waves and excitement for our crew of beginners. Welcome to the new members who came on this trip (about 10 newbies) and an equal welcome back to some WMC members who have moved to Santa Fe (Signa Larralde and Sarah Schlanger). Thanks also to the coordinators and captains who helped put this trip together (Eileen Gidley, Marilyn Smith, Steve Susswein and Dallas Chopping). It was sure good to feel that sand again, under your toes, in your hair, in the sleeping bags, in the spaghetti... Summer is finally here.

BOAT CAPTAINS - WE NEED YOU!!! Our trips rely on several things: obtaining permits, having WMC members volunteer to organize the trips, keeping our equipment in good shape, having passengers, and BOAT CAPTAINS! This is both for Oar Rigs and Paddle Boats. If you've never tried to captain a boat and would be interested, please call us. It's great fun. You get to choose just where you go on the river, you really hone your river reading skills and you are usually exempt from the shore chores (unless you are a fine chef and your skills are in great demand). Best of all, qualified captains pretty much have an open invite on any trip! Why? Because we need you. Without captains, we can't send out the boats. What more could you ask for?. Give us a call if you're interested, we'll set up some training opportunities.

UPCOMING TRIPS NON-SCHEDULED - DEPENDING ON WATER FLOW.

Owyhee or Bruneau/Jarbridge (class IV) Steve Susswein would like to do one of these this season, possibly sometime in June (depending on water level). Looking for river guide and interested paddlers. Contact Steve if interested. E-Mail susswein@phbtsus.com Tel hm: (435) 647-9833, wk: (801) 977-1617

A WMC FOND FAREWELL TO DENNIS AND KARIN CALDWELL

Two of the Wasatch Mountain Club's long time members, who have served the club so faithfully for 35 years, are moving later this month to Sweden. Dennis Caldwell joined the WMC in 1962. He served on the governing board as Treasurer from 1965-67, Ski Touring Director from 1967-71, and was president of the club twice. His first term was from 1971-73, and then he was president once again from 1977-80.

Karin arrived in Utah from Sweden for her post-doctoral work. She met Dennis on a WMC outing, and when she returned to Sweden, he followed her. They married abroad, and then both returned to Utah. Karin joined the club in 1968, was Entertainment Director from 1971-73, and was a Trustee for 12 years, from 1984-96.

In 1988, Karin undertook the establishment of a conservation award in honor of Alexis Kelner. She began the tradition of music at the lodge, and has organized the old-timers party for many years. Karin was a strong voice advocating saving the Lodge several years ago. With Dennis' direction as president, the WMC became conservation oriented and environmentally responsible. Together they have organized countless hundreds of ski tours, climbing expeditions, and hikes throughout Utah and the West. With their home only steps away from the Deaf Smith trailhead, the Caldwells for years have organized the Broadfork Twin Peaks via Deaf Smith Canyon hike. After that activity, and many other ski tours and hikes, they graciously open their home to the tired, grubby, and hungry troops. They are very special people, and exemplify the spirit of volunteerism and total commitment to the Wasatch Mountain Club.

Both Dennis and Karin have been recipients of the club's Pa Perry Award, which is given yearly to a member who has given exceptional service to the club. Dennis received the award in 1980, and Karin is our most recent recipient of the award, having just received it this last January 1998.

On a more personal note Rolf Dobbeling, a friend, mused:

"They both loved the mountains and rarely missed a weekend going up somewhere. But, above all, ski touring was their favorite activity. Dennis was always out in front and only Karin could slow him down, which was never easy. Karin also loved the social aspect of touring and thoroughly enjoyed the company of others. She never ran out of interesting subjects to talk about, which made the climb to the summits much easier. Dennis often jokingly said: 'I always know where Karin is; if I can't see her, I can hear her.' Dennis was more the quiet type, but with his subtle humor never missed a chance to throw in a good punch line when he was near a conversation. And so it was, Dennis and their beloved German shepherd out in front breaking trail and Karin keeping up the good morale. I am sure going to miss the company of these two delightful friends."

We can not thank you two enough for everything you have done these last 35 years. We will miss you, but wish you the best of luck in your new endeavors in Sweden. To show our appreciation for the Caldwells, the WMC is hosting a farewell celebration for them from 6:00 pm to 9:00 pm on Saturday, June 6, 1998. For more details of the farewell celebration, please call Alexis Kelner (359-5387), Larry Swanson (278-3269), or Cheryl Soshnik (435-649-9008).

Reflections on Karin and Dennis Caldwell by Ron Perla

First the bad news: the Caldwells will be thousands of miles away. The good news is that Dennis and Karin can now lead us on new, exotic tours. Dennis will sound a note on his oboe, calling us magically to historic Uppsala, to Swedish Lapland, to ski fields in the Alps, to concerts, to the never-ending museum of Europe...and most of all, to the kindest, most knowledgeable hosts.

Here's an example. About 25 years ago the Caldwells met us in Switzerland, drove us to Verbier, arranged accommodations, and guided us on a section of the Haute Route. As usual, Dennis broke trail by default. Who can move faster and still photograph the adventure? But as Dennis fondly notes: "Karin is in charge of Europe."

I witnessed a display of that power when I accompanied Karin through the French speaking marketplace, we would have only the best for supper. We stopped at a telephone booth so that Karin could help me phone an institute in Norway. A pair of tourists seemed to be having trouble using the phone. Karin asked them in French if she could help. They responded with "Bitte?" So Karin switched to German and resolved the difficulty, explaining to me (in English) what that was all about.

Then she switched back to French to initiate the call (keeping me informed on the side), and finally was able to talk Scandinavian with the Oslo operator before giving me the phone. The only thing left was for Karin to resolve a fender-bender between an Italian and Spanish tourist. You'll have to meet the Caldwells in Rome to see that unfold.

Trip Talks

"Dry" Canyon by Tim Seeley 18th of March

It is very unusual that there would be so much snow in the foothills this late in the year. A hike up Dry Canyon with (hope of) a glissade at the Mule canyon saddle turned out to be a snowshoe excursion. One of the participants, Dave Trask, graciously planned to bring an extra pair of snowshoes so we could plan to go further up the canyon. Debbie Sherman, the third participant was a prospective member going for her second qualifying event. Trip leader Tim Seeley, having never been up the canyon, scoped things out the previous Monday, hoping to get the route down. Because of all the snow the South ridge was tried, in hopes that the sun exposed ground would offer an easier path to the saddle. This route was difficult just over 6000' due to scrambles covered with snow.

With the four or five new snowstorms since then, (accumulating 6 to 8" in the foothills) it would end up being much different than what was envisioned in February. Three adventurers started out Saturday in the canyon bottom not knowing what we would encounter or how far up the canyon would be obtainable.

This is one of those canyons where housing has blocked the trail access and it is very obvious that the property owners are not sympathetic to others getting into the canyon. Access is via the water tank road and heading straight East. Not far up the drainage, snowshoes were donned and trail finding skills were put to the test. There is a trail up the canyon but staying on it was difficult. At one point, we deviated from the stream and ended up a hundred vertical feet above the stream. It was thought that the trail followed the stream, and a rocky snow covered slope seemed too risky to get back into the drainage. So we went down to see that the walls of the canyon were squeezing us in. A hidden side drainage created a snow bridge and swallowed Tim up to his armpits. It must have been funny looking, as Dave and Debbie commented that they wish they had a camera.

Debbie kicked up a steep slope and we ended up just above our previous spot above the stream. Between the new snow and the steepness of the slope it was already noon and we ate lunch on a rock outcropping. The weather was definitely improved over the previous week and the sun was welcome. Afterwards, we tried to sight a new line of travel and it was decided it was too steep with the fresh snow to continue. It was interesting to note that we did get more elevation than Tim did on the ridge Monday. The retreat was easy following our previous tracks and the company and temperature enjoyable.

Heughes Canyon Hike April 11, 1998

How do you get 23 people into the wilderness at the same time? Just go on some old mining property that is surrounded on 3 sides by wilderness, like Heughes Canyon. We decided to call it the victory hike because the Trust for Public Land has most of the canyon purchased and hopes to purchase the remainder as a local contribution to the open space bank. The hike could also be called the small miracle hike with all the wet weather of late and Saturday's weather being a day of sunshine between storms. 26 persons arrived for the trip and 3 X-ed out so we had 23 plus one dog and including one 8-year old girl who seemed to be tireless. Another couple was interested in documenting waterfalls that are near the city.

The canyon is in good shape, very little junk, the trail is flooded and re-routed in a couple of places. I heard that some energetic group cleaned out the trail last year on volunteer day. The glacier lilies were out in the loser part of the canyon and coming out further up. I (Martin) will be getting in contact with Public Land Trust to ascertain their plans for the place. I'm still dreaming of a nearby minor trail-head that would serve Heughes Canyon and Dry Hollow.

Hikers were M.McGregor, Martin Clemans, Ronald Thole, Dave Trask, Tony Barron, Trennis Stanley, Robert Janzen, Sharon Coons, Jackie Doherty, Megan Doherty, Hank Winawer, John Hail, Joan Reid, Richard Wunder, Patricia Moore, Susan Trinkle, Jeanette Buenger, Randy Long, Leslie V., Diane Ellison, Kathy Nickle, Angie Cambre, and David Cambre.

Ensign Peak and TV Tower Ridge Hike by Richard Zeamer
Saturday, May 2, 1998

At 8 am, Saturday, May 2, 1998, we met at the west end of Dorchester Drive, which is in the residential subdivision, on the hill just above the Utah State Capitol. There were eight hikers, besides Richard Zeamer, the leader.

First we walked up-hill two short blocks to Ensign Vista Drive, where the old trail to Ensign Peak begins. There we found a small new park. It was just about fifty feet across. Its sign told us that this was Ensign Peak Park. US and Utah State flags were flying there.

We hiked, or you might say climbed, up the trail. It was steep, with many protruding rocks, difficult in places. The weather was perfect and the views were superb. We made it to the monument at the top of Ensign Peak in less than 45 minutes. The views of Salt Lake City were superb. We could look straight down Main Street. After all, it was from here that the location of Main street was determined.

We could clearly see Antelope Island, where there was another WMC hike this morning, but we could see no hikers. It was a great hike. We got back to our cars, on Dorchester Drive, at just about 12-noon. Everybody initialed their return and went their way.
